MIAMI STOCK EXCHANGE IS ENGAGED TO CREATE RELIEF FOR WORLD TRADE CENTER FINANCIAL TERRORIST ATTACK ON AMERICA

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Miami, Florida - September 13, 2001- Miami Stock Exchange President Robert Dobiecki reached out to State of Florida Governor Jeb Bush to advance financial disaster relief for businesses that suffered massive devastation caused on Tuesday, September 11th by a terrorist attack on America.

Dobiecki has forwarded ideas to the Governor for his consideration that would offer major financial industries and exchanges refuge at Miami Network Access Point of the Americas (NAP) and include the hospitality and commerce entities in Miami-Dade County. "Specifically, we are proposing relocating major principles to the Miami NAP as a support system to immediately restore financial stability to the markets and deal effectively and swiftly with the cruel suffering that has been directed at America and all civilized life across our globe." Dobiecki continued, "Our gesture of good samaritan outreach serves as a critical first-step to begin healing in view of this disaster and destruction that has resulted in the death of countless civilians and civil servants, alike."

The Miami Stock Exchange is prepared to assist in mobilizing this outreach on demand.
